

Mobile & Web Application Development

www.thebitcrew.com

What We Do

We are dedicated in delivering quality solutions in:

Web Application Development, Mobile Development, Custom Software Development, and Multimedia.

Development platforms are evolving rapidly, especially in the new mobile landscape, this can leave you with uncertainty. We provide guiding answers that will enable you to effectively respond to existing and newly developing opportunities with mobile devices and web applications.

Creating cutting edge software requires the ability to pick up on those trends that offer opportunities and drop those that do not. This foresight of technological trends attributes to the success of BitCrew and its customers.

Our Services

Web Application Development: Whether you need a custom e-commerce application, database form, a member portal, or completely custom business solution, our team of web programmers has the technical expertise and practical experience to create the right solution.

Mobile Development: We work with various present-day technologies to construct a cohesive mobile solution. As per each project requirement, we leverage our expertise to implement the appropriate new mobile application development technologies for iOS, Android, and Windows Phone 7.

Custom Software Development: The typical software project requires many different skill sets, we have all the talent needed to define, design, develop and deploy a custom software application. We have built a variety of custom solutions, some examples are: Flash weather visualization, mapping solutions, content management systems, video games, 3D asset conversion tools, and many more...

Multimedia: We have years of experience in creating, converting, editing, and designing most digital media.

The Process

Our standard process is made up of frequent delivery of working software and best utilize our staffing resources for all stages of the development cycle. This process begins with establishing the user stories and screen mockups that are critical to delivering the marketable features of the product.

This process involves frequent meetings and reevaluation of progress and direction with everyone involved to guarantee we are meeting the project requirements. With a client-centric business philosophy, our products consistently exceed our clients' expectations for ease-of-use, robustness, and quality.

Our Team

The BitCrew is a small, highly skilled and highly motivated team of developers from the United States. We enjoy working with computer technology and also working closely with our customers to create awesome solutions.

Support

Post delivery enhancement, support and maintenance are crucial to maximizing ROI over the lifetime of any solution. We design solutions with maintenance and extensibility in mind, enabling us to offer excellent value enhancement, support and maintenance services.

Mobile Market

Analysts predict more users will connect to the Internet via mobile devices than desktop PCs within 5 years (Morgan Stanley.) There are currently 160 million Apple iOS devices in the hands of consumers and they have downloaded 10 billion apps from the iTunes App Store already.

Android and Windows phone 7 mobile devices are quickly gaining market share and greatly expanding mobile device potential. The BitCrew is interested in helping you design, build, and deploy a mobile solution for your company.

Visit our website: <http://www.thebitcrew.com>

